LOUISVILLE JOURNAL PREMIUE, HENDERSON, & OSBORNE. JOURNAL OFFICE BUILDING, GREEN STREET, BETWEEN THIRD AND FOURTH.

MR. CHAIRMAN: Some days since I submitted to this House the following measure in the form of resolutions:

"Whereas the operations of the Federal and Confederate armies in Kentucky, and the devastation of property, personal security, and devastation of property, personal security, and happiness of her people consequent upon the rebel invasion of her territories, together with the sacrifice of many of her noblest sons, who have enriched the earth with their precious blood as water poured from the clouds, have illustrated to all thinking men the folly of disunion as a remedy for a bad administration; whereas, the President has broke faith with the Union States, which have furnished the supplies of men and money for the army, by adding new complications and issues to the war; in this, that the President has, with the concurrence of Congress, after receiving into the Federal service large quotas of troops from the Border Slave States, pressed upon said States, with great tenacity, the question of selling the slave property of said States for the bonds of the United States, in violation of all constitutional law, State and Federal; the President has not kept faith with the Union States in this, that on the 1st day of January, 1863, he issued his proclamation, which as sumes the power to give freedom to the slave of the rebel States, in conflict with the Constitutions of the United States and of sai States respectively; thus dealing a blow to the States respectively; thus dealing a blow to the Union cause, thus attempting to change the character of the war, by associating and incorporating with the Union struggle the great and cruel wrong of abolition, an act in rebellion and contempt of allegiance to the Constitution of the United States; and, whereas, the present surroundings and temper of the times indicate that reason and great results are to present surroundings and temper of the times indicate that no good and great results are to be attained by the war as it is proposed to be carried on, and as at present conducted by both armies—nothing accomplished but the slaughter of the brave men and youth of all the States—nothing but the ruin and bankruptcy of the nation—with nothing left for reunion but the maimed bodies of the surriving addiens the appear of cities and temples viving soldiers, the ashes of cities, and temples of worship—the desolate hearth-stones, and woes without number, of a brave and fallen nation. Therefore be it—

"Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the Legislature is ready and anxious to co-operate with the Legislatures of the other States in any effort which may be concurred in and approved by Congress for an honorable peace, based on the restoration of the Constitution and the Union of which it is the only lawful and the Union of which it is the only lawful bond and guarantee of safety, and to that end recommend the calling of a National Convention of delegates elected by the people of all the States, or such States as approve the measure, in pursuance of the acts of the Legislatures of the States, providing for the election of delegates, to meet at——, on the —— day of ———, 1863.

not think of independence, nor did the British off; unless this rebellion, this tremendous effort at revolution is an exception to those which have preceded it, there has been great wrongs committed in this country somewhere. What principle, what motive inspires the American youth of the North, the South, and the great West to rush into the lists of the contending hosts swelling their numbers to one and a half or two millions of men? In the West and North they have gone to the war to sustain the idea of constitutional Union the West and North they have gone to the war to sustain the idea of constitutional Union and the liberty of the people of all the States as argued by the public men and presses of the Union States. To whip out a rebellion against the constitutional supremacy of the National Government legitimately administered. This was and is the argument. What is the argument in the South? That the people of the North are for depriving them of their right to generally of person and property by arming. Mr. Chairman, you will recollect in July, 1861, what gloom was cast upon the Union cause in Kentucky by the news of the disastreus battle of Bull Run. I well and vividly remember with what stunning, appalling weight that sad story of defeat fell upon the Union heart of Kentucky. The Union men were conjured to stand firmly by their cause. And they did stand. The Crittenden resolution passed the House with but two votes against

That this is not a war waged on their part in

That this is not a war waged on their part in any spirit of oppression nor for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, nor purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of those States, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality, and rights of the several States unimpaired; and that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to rease.

This measure adopted with such unprecedent. ed unanimity by a Congress which represented every shade of political sentiment, every type of political morals from a constitutional Union man down, immeasurably down, to the Goths the war—pledged the Government and people to a war for the restoration of the Union and -war to vindicate the rights and just and 45,000 of Kentucky's bravest sons put on all the armor of manhood, of courage, and love for the noblest cause that ever warmed a love for the noblest cause that ever warmed a patriot's heart to generous action. I say nothing of the legions of young men who joined the army from the same motive in other States of the West and Northwest, and also in the Central States. The war goes on large armies are marshalled for the conflict. The Union States respond in heavy quotas to the demands of Federal authority. The earth trembles under the step of heavy columns and the air clamors with the echoes of clashing arms. Mill Spring, Pea Ridge, Wilson's Creek, Forts Donelson and Henry, and Island No. Ten are only words and places and Island No. Ten are only words and places illustrative of American valor and character. Union armies are generally successful. rebel troops are driven out of Kentucky and Missouri, and that too with the powerful assistance of troops raised in these States. A new era of the war is ushered in by a change of policy in March, 1862. The President sends his message to Congress recommending that novel, strange doctrine and policy of compensating, by appropriations from the national treasury, any border slave State which would abolish slavery. This proposition of the President was pressed into his head by the lever and machinery of New England abolition. This proposition was accompanied with the specious and brilliant idea that if the border States would get rid of slaves that would deprive the cotton States of all motive to continue the strugand Missouri, and that too with the powerful union the once slave but now free States of the border. This "presto change" policy would so change our character at once, as if by magic, that the people of the rebel States would not desire any political connection with us, or remember us as the same people who lived in Kentucky one year before. It would purify us—we should dress ourselves in the "sackaloth and ashes" of abolition to pre-pare ourselves for the association of these latter-day saints, headed by such pure names as Cameron, Sumner, Phillips, Chase, Greeley, and Lovejoy. A few days after this message was sent to Congress, the Legislature being in session, I offered the following resolutions, sponsive to the occasion—to the issue raise ov the message: "Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That Congress as no constitutional power, and therefore no right, to cooperate with any State which may adopt a gradual abolishment of slavery, giving to such State pecuniary aid, to be used by such State in its discretion to compensate for he inconvenience, public and private, by such

"Resolved, That the initiation of emancipation' in the loyal Border States, brought about by the offer of aid by Congress, or compulsory emancipation by Congress, through the instrumentality of the army, in the Cotton and rebel Border States, would give strength to the rebellion, by verifying the apprehended wrong, the fear of which was one controlling cause of the rebellion, and would drive the Union men of the slave States from their allegiance.

"Resolved, That our chivarrous army, officered by men imbued with discipline to the law, civil as well as military, and subordinate to the former, together with the continued observance of the pledge and policy not to interfere with slavery in the States, afford the best and only guarantees of a speedy reduction of the rebellion, the restoration of the old Union, with. I was surprised at this objection coming as it did from the Hon. Member from Boyle (Mr. Bell), inasmuch as he canvassed the State in 1859 for a Congressional slave code for the Territories. If the State is not "annoyed" by the "pressure" of this "compensated emancipation" policy before the next August election, more than the President has been, I shall be agreeably disappointed, and frankly admit that I have underrated the po-all the States, or such States as approve the measure, in pursuance of the acts of the Legislatures of the States, providing for the election of delegates, to meet at—on the day of—1863.

"Resolved, That the Governor is requested to communicate a copy of the foregoing resolutions to the President of the United States, and to the Governors of all the States, and through them to Congress and the Legislatures respectively."

These resolutions were referred to a select committee consisting of Shanklin, Proctor, Johnson, Conklin, and myself. That committee that not reported the measures now under consideration, which substantially embrace my proposition. They are entirely germain, and the adoption of the majority report, which I favor, will accomplish every object of my own resolutions. It is said that revolutions always go beyond the wrongs to be remedied and avenged, always beyond the intention of the projectors, and the magnitude of the struggle is never fully estimated by the parties who bring on and resist the same. At the beginning of the revolutions of the singular mining of the revolution of 1776 the Colonies did not think of independence, nor did the British Crown and Parliament think of the colonies did not think of independence, nor did the British Crown and Parliament think of the cost and the ton the conduction of the singular date of the cocasion and the Union going down under its missrule perhaps forcer. ing to aggression but invites the repetition of it. Kentucky has furnished perhaps a larger stealing, and inciting to insurrection their African slavery. On the State right of African slavery. On the State right of African slavery. On the State right or regulate and covery State. Oh how American freemen fight for the vindication of their dights as they are vouchsafed by written constitutions. If the people who compose these armies are fighting under delusion, it is not their fault, but the crime of all this bloodshed, which would "the great seas incarnadine," is upon the heads of malignant, corrupt, ambitious leaders of both sections to the strife what gloom.

These troops volunteered to preserve the government with the existing relations of State and completations of deal with now witho engrating any more upon the difficulties an misfortunes dire with which the nation is be set. The time of the time time time time time time they entered the service. After she had furnished the highest evidence of patriotism and manual devotion to the Union of the States, then to apply the compensated emancipation policy as a test of the Unionism of these States is a piece of bullyism—of blackguardism—which could only find its origin in the distemption of their distortion of their distortion of their distortion of their distortion o in 1863—in less than a century from the perilous times in which they were snatched from the rude embrace of the savage tribes, by the Boones, Ballards, the Logans, Knights, Kentons, Harlans, Headys, Allens, Hardins, Crists, Crepps, and others? Are we to have it determined for Kentucky what shall be her domestic relations within by the pressure of arms from without? We raised the emancipation question in 1849—it was raised legitimes. pation question in 1849—it was raised legiti-mately by Kentuckians—Kentuckians decided it and Kentuckians have cheerfully submitted to that decision. Now if it is to be raised unneart of Kentucky. The Union men were conjured to stand firmly by their cause. And they did stand. The Crittenden resolution passed the House with but two votes against it—cast by two Missouri disunionists:

*Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, That the present deplorable civil war has been forced the state of the Congress of the United States, That the present deplorable civil war has been forced the state. I know not how this accords with the idea of civil and political liberty entertained by members who wish to resent deplorable civil war has been forced pon the country by the disunionists of the liberty, entertained by members who wish to speak to the President in whispers. As for constitutional government, and in arms around the Capital.

That in this national emergency, Congress, banishing all feelings of passion and mere resentment, will recollect only its duty to the substitutional government, and in arms around me I will resist such a policy with my voice, and, if need be, with my right arm. I prefer to die in defence of my liberty, to live the ignoble life of a slave to the will of others who have no higher title to liberty in their States have no higher title to liberty in their States than I have in "my own, my native land." I make no threats—I have too much self-respect for that In this Hall I know no fear in talking to a man with a million of troops at his command, with their bayonets and sabres at our faces, bayonets and sabres at our faces, bayonets and sabres at our backs. Hear you not the echoes of an honest, manly voice which rang through these halls for thirty years? "It is my father's voice."

Next in the comedy of errors comes the proclamation, uniting the rebels who were di-proclamation, uniting the rebels who were di-vided among themselves—cementing their columns of resistance—hushing every murmur against separation and perpetual dismember-ment—leaving no choice between universal ruin and devastation and universal abolition and an unconditional surrender at discretion. man down, immeasurably down, to the Goths and Vandals whose mission is to advocate negro stealing. The President's inaugural and this Crittenden resolution defined the policy of the war—pledged the Government and people to a war for the restoration of the Union and slaves in the rebel States, are propositions to meet the revolution wantonly and unnecessarily gotten up in the South, with a revolution of the whole character, spirit, and purposes of the government. It is the fatal mistake of meeting revolution with revolution—of fighting rebellion in the South with rebellion in the North, East, and West—of opposing resistance to constitutions in the rebel States by resistance to law in the Union States—of meeting the anarchy and confusion of the rebellion with the overthrow of law and order in the Union. Mr. Chairman, I have no hope of retaining long in the Union party a member who wishes to endorse the rebellion at Richmond by sanctioning it when practised at Washington. The President in his inaugural address, of the 4th of March, 1861, said:

"Apprehension seems to exist among the people of the Southern States, that by the accession of a Republican Administration their property and their peace and personal security are to be endangered. There has never been any reasonable cause for such apprehension. Indeed, the most ample evidence to the concontrary has all the while existed and been open to their inspection. It is found in nearly all the published speeches of him who now addresses you. I do but quote from one of those speeches when I declare that 'I have no purpose, directly or indirectly, to interfere with of each State to order and control its own do mestic institutions according to its own judg-ment exclusively, is essential to that balance of power on which the perfection and endu-rance of our political fabric depend, and we denounce the lawless invasion by armed force of the soil of any State or Territory, no mat-ter under what prefext as among the grayest ter under what pretext, as among the gravest of crimes."

Now read the following extract from his proclamation of January 1, 1863, and see how hey produce a discord which jars from earth

"On the first day of January, 1863, all peron the first day of January, 1805, air persons held as slaves within any State, or any designated part of a State, the people whereof shall then be in rebellion against the United States, shall then be thenceforward and forev-States, shall then be thenceforward and love-er free, and the executive Government of the United States, including the military and naval authority thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will lo no act or acts to repress such persons or any of them in any efforts they may make for their actual freedom.'

There is an awakening of the public mind to these enormous pretentions to power—these startling inroads upon the character and genius of the Constitution. The people watch nfractions of the law, and look with a jealous ve to the administration of their Government The people—and who are the people? The law maker in this Hall, the farmer at his plough, the lawyer at the bar, the mechanic in his shop, the Judge on the bench, the sailor upon the bounding billow, all are the people. There is no danger of the public liberties being destroyed so long as the people are observ-ant of the mode and manner of conducting "Resolved, That 'whether the pecuniary compensation tendered would not be of more value to the States and private persons concerned, than are the institutions and property in it, in the present aspect of our affairs, is a question which Kentucky will not entertain, coming from the national executive, Congress, or other source outside of Kentucky, in any 'aspect of our affairs.'

"Resolved, That our chivalrous army, officered by men imbued with discipline to the law, civil as well as military, and subordinate to the former, together with the continued observance of the pledge and policy not to interfere with slavery in the States, afford the best and only guarantees of a speedy reduction of the rebellion, the restoration of the old Union, and the blessings, without number, which cluster around its adhering members."

I was unfortunate, perhaps the State was unfortunate, in failing to impress upon the House any just appreciation of these resolutions at the time, indeed the House refused to suspend the rule and take a direct vote on their passage. I was met with the objection that the President should not be annoyed—that he had already annoyance enough to contend with. I was surprised at this objection coming asit did from the Hon. Member from Boyle (Mr.

of the rebel States. What disgusting fol-ly! What imbecility! What hallucination! Napoleon, the imperial Napoleon, the first consul; in his Russian campaign one of his Marshals, when he was hard pressed by the Russians, suggested that he should declare freedom, to the conference of the same against freedom to the serfs, and arm them against their masters. His answer was all that could come fresh from the generons, magnanimous heart of a brave gentleman and soldier. "I cannot do that, because, if I did, the Czar could the country of the co from Boyle. What the future has in store for a rebuke! Against a foreign nation between down under its misruie pernaps forever. In connection with this Border State policy, Maryland and Missouri have given way; it may be they have yielded the ballot-box to the cartridge-box and the gleaming bayonet. The gentleman from Madison (Mr. Burnam) says if he lived in Missouri he might be in favor of it, as that State is almost surrounded by Free State boundaries. If it were entirely surrounded—indeed the only Slave State in the Union—it were perfectly secure, and contented, and happy, if the surrounding States live up to the laws of the land. He might yield in Missouri to get clear of aggressions; then may he not yield to apprehended aggressions and yield in Kentucky? The gentleman says he is opposed to emancipation; but I would much prefer that he should build his partition walls higher and stronger between emancipation on the one side and a conservative policy on the other. Yielding to aggression but invites the repetition of the folly and atrocity of these disgusting measures. The gentlemen from Kenton (Mr. Finnell), from Madison (Mr. Burnam), and Boyle (Mr. Bell), have all spoken hypothetically—thus, if the negro gets between me and my government—down goes the negro. Now what is the use of speaking that way? There is no such issue, nor can there be any such issue unless abolition slang and falsehood shall take the place of truth and law and sound political philosophy. When I hear gentlemen speak that way it makes the impression on my mind that they are feeling out for that issue—that they invite that issue—that they desire it. It is the echo of the fallacious idea that slavery is the cause of the recious idea that slavery is the cause of the rebellion, and abolish slavery and you abolish givings as to the future harmony and peace of Kentucky. Let us adhere to the old Consti-tution—to the old Union—to legitimate and rational measures of policy for the enforce-ment of the one and the restoration of the other. Let us in open, firm, respectful lan-guage point out to the President the depar-tures of his Administration from the plain spirit and letter of the Constitution and the spirit and letter of the Constitution, and the errors of policy which are said to have been forced upon him by an unreasonable and unscrupulous Congress; reminding him of our devotion to the Union of the States, with all their aws sacredly respected and enforced; beckon nim away from the embraces of a misguided, pestiferous party, whose policy involves the destruction of the government, the white man and the black man in a common ruin, from which there is no escape, no salvation. Let us do this, as becomes the successors of the illustrious men who preceded us in these halls, and leave the consequences to God. Speakpeace, unbroken, reigns and the sad notes of war are hushed in the plash of its Lethean and leave the consequences to God. Speaking recently in Congress on these subjects, the eloquent enthusiasm of Wadsworth reminds ne of the impassioned earnestness of St. Paul.

"Well, sir, the law as it now stands, it seems to me, is ample to carry out this project. do not know why the Executive should come do not know why the Executive should come here for any more power upon the subject of recruiting, organizing, officering, paying, marching, and fighting African brigades than there is now upon the statute-book; and I confess now that I am induced to raise my voice against this measure, not so much because it is something new, but because the cause it is something new, but because the time has come when every man should speak out; when every man who preserves any love out; when every man who preserves any love for his country should declare all the feelings of his heart and all the purposes of his mind without any reservation, and should here, in this place, where he has been posted as a sentinel by his people, proclaim to them that there is no hope, no escape from this policy that aims at their total destruction, except in the proclaim to the policy that aims at their total destruction, except in the policy that aims at their total destruction. an instant, united, firm, and manly resistance to it; and by an appeal for protection to that power which is behind presidents and cabipower which is behind presidents and cabinets; the power that made them and can unake them; the power which lives and breathes and burns; the power which has spoken at the ballot-box. There is no longer any virtue in silence and forbearance. I have tried it; we have tried it. Sir, the tortoise will poke its head from its shell when a coal of fire it not work his back, and there is a continuous to be held at the right of the resolutions.

LET. T. J. Reference of the power which has spoken at the ballot-box. There is no longer any virtue in silence and forbeat and the right of the resolutions.

LET. will poke its head from its shell when a coal of fire is put upon his back; and there is a limit to the endurance of the people of Kentucky, and the people of the whole country." Crittenden, the distinguished Wickliffe, all of the Kentucky delegation in Congress save one, have plead for the Constitutional Union. The Democracy of the West, Northwest, Central, and Northern States all speak the same language in their recent elections, and now standing upon our own proud centre, giving utterance to the hopes, principles, and aspirations which animate our souls in this trying four, let the Union Democracy of Kentucky dour, let the Union Democracy of Kentucky raise such a shout for the preservation of the liberties of America, of American Constitutions, of American Unions, as will make their enemies quake for fear from the St. Lawrence to the Rio del Norte. Let us do everything to relieve the conservative men of all sections from this false policy which is forcing the false issue of disunion or abolition. This false issue is pressing the people to make their elections.

ling exhibition of the South struggling to separate from a radical minority now retiring from the administration of the Government, as I trust, forever. A minority North are for the abolition policy in peace as in war. The Union law-abiding men have to contend with Union law-abiding men have to contend with the abolitionists, anarchists, and all other rebels and disunionists North and South, East and West; in Congress and before the people. Massachusetts and South Carolina have crossed their flaming swords of abolition and disunion over the head of the great West. The West is the victim—the sacrifice upon the altar to appease the cry for blood. The unoffending West—the unoffending people of all the States who were betrayed into the positions of conflict, have, like Norma, to suffer for an-

of conflict, have, like Norma, to suffer for an other's wrong. Shall the great West have no of conflict, have, like Norma, to suffer for all other's wrong. Shall the great West have no voice, no energy, no power, no influence, except to fight in this partisan war, incited and waged by the two political schools of Massachusetts and South Carolina? War is the remedy and the only instrument of punishment when passion rules the hour. Negotiation and treaty accomplish most when passion subsides, chastened by suffering. We cannot tell what may result from this Legislature passing a resolution in favor of and inviting other States to concur in the call of a national convention. I feel assured of one effect, that it will lessen the ire and acerbity of the combatants, if it does nothing more; it will disarm the people of the South of their apprehension that they cannot get back into the Union under existing constitutions and laws. The tides ebb; and the waves dash upon the shore after the fury of the storm has past. The success of an effort to call a national convention can only be determined by actual experiment. The results of any measure in a country so full of revolutionary action as this can only be ascertained by trying it. The greatest obstacle to the restoration of the country to peace and law, and constitutional union and harmony among the States, is the discouraging fact, that all men seem union and harmony among the States, it the discouraging fact, that all men seer to give up to the idea that war is the para mount agency now for the achievemen of good results. Let us try it. If it fails, no narm will follow the effort. The Union States harm will follow the effort. The Union States are more numerous and have a population thrice as large as the seceded States—it will be magnanimous to offer them peace, with all the guarantees of the Union and law, in a convention of all the States. I believe they will accept it. I feel that they will. I know their progress and public men talk much about will accept it. I feel that they will. I know their presses and public men talk much about holding out till the last man is gone, &c. That valorous kind of talk is prompted by the license of war and war times. If they refuse the offer of a convention, then our offer and their refusal will divide the people of the seceded States whilst it will reunite the people in the Union States. The offer of peace and union to the seceded States upon the terms of the Constitution liberally construed will be hailed with joy and rejoicing by their people. nailed with joy and rejoicing by their people it will fill their hearts with the liveliest reminiscenses of the happier and better days of the Republic, when the States reposed in peace and friendship side by side. It will assure them that the Union is their friend, not their nemy-that confiscations, proclamations, con pensated emancipation, and negro regiment are measures for war—extreme war—not for are measures for war—extreme war—not lot states in union of love and order and peace and happy reunion, forgetting all that is ungrateful in the past, hoping for the blissful fruition of a generous future. The gentleman from Warren (Mr. UnderWood), has gone somewhat into the causes of his unhappy condition of affairs. Without inending to revive old party prejudices and prelikeline but regiting history which teaches illections, but reciting history which teacher hilosophy by example, the Whig party of the orth, with many honorable exceptions, to gether with a portion of the Democrats of the same section, gave way to and went into about ition. From this giving way the Northern Democrats were unable to sustain a conserva tive policy in very many of the Free States; the Southern Democrats, having lost their counterpart North, went into disunion. As an om the South, so I intreat you Union flag to either of these deadly foes.

Mr. Chairman, on yesterday the House done me the honor of adjourning before the usual time, to give me an opportunity to finish me remarks to-day. I thank the House for it courtesy and will not abuse it by holding the courtesy and will have a buse it of hosting and floor beyond a few minute, but give way it other gentlemen who have not spoken to the subjects under debate. Before closing, I wish to express the opinion, strongly fortified by the careful reading of able and learned treatises o authority of law to suspend the writ habeas corpus and that Congress alone hat that power. Many arrests have been mad wrongfully and that writ has been wrongfully withheld. Whilst many innocent men hav uffered under the pangs of unlawful imprisonment, scores of guilty plotters of treaso of the Constitution have enjoyed the larges to the Constitution have enjoyed the largest liberty at the North and at the South. My venerable friend on the right (Mr. Underwood) says he heard Mr. Benton say in the Senate that the Union can no more be destroyed than the Mississippi river can be stopped in its course by a dam of straw. The Union is based upon a loyal observance of all the rights and interests of the States composing the political Union. The harmony of the States is the soul of the Union. It believe in the immortality of the Union. It may be destroyed for a season. As the rose and jasdestroyed for a season. As the rose and ja mine, under the rude, chilling blasts of wi mine, under the rude, chilling blasts of winter, droop, wither, and die, when the genial sunshine of spring, in execution of the law of death and reproduction, invite, they spring again into all their lovely forms of beauty and fragrance. The Union may be down for a while. But like a mountain stream tumbling over rock and precipice as if to escape the rugged surface, dashes under ground for many a furlong, but to gurgle up in gushing fountains in the midst of beautiful landscapes, where peace, unbroken, reigns and the sad notes of waters. Note.—The bills for compensated emancipation i Missouri and Maryland and also the bill for organ Izing negro regiments for the war, all failed in Con

LIVER LUCAS, Local Editor & Reporter WEDNESDAY, MARCH 18, 1863.

We republish below the resolutions on national affairs adopted by the General Assembly of Kentucky at the late session: 1. Resolved, That our institutions are assailed by an armed rebellion on one side, which can only be met by the sword; and on the other by unconstitutional acts of Congress, and startling usurpations of power by the Executive, which we have seen by experiment can be corrected by the ballot-box. which is slow but sure, and refrain from al patriotic men to avert the evils that threaten 2. Resolved, That this General Assembly declares, as before it has oftentimes declared, that the State of Kentucky hath ever been, and is, loyal to the Government of the United States of America, and is determined to mainforeign foes.

3. Resolved, That this General Assembly recognizes a manifest difference between any administration of the Government and the Gov ernment itself—the one is transitory, limited in duration only to that period of time for which the officers elected by the people are charged with the conduct of the same; the other is permanent, intended by its founders

Resolved, That this General Assembly declares that the power which has recently been lost. The enemy is even now gathering upon ssumed by the President of the United States. whereby, under the guise of military neces sity, he has proclaimed and extended martial law over States where war did not exist, and has suspended the writ of habeas corpus, is unwarranted by the Constitution, and its tendency is to subordinate civil to military authority, and to subvert constitutional and free | to do whatever he may fitly do to banish dis 6. Resolved, That this General Assembly nation of the 19th May, 1862.

7. Resolved, That this General Assembly deems it proper further to declare that it, to-gether with all the loyal people of the State, would hail with pleasure and delight any manifestation of a desire on the part of the seceded States to return to their allegiance to the Gov-ernment of the Union, and would, in such curity to all their interests and rights.

Resolved, That this General Assembly hails with pleasurable hope the recent manifestations of conservative sentiment among the people of the non-slaveholding States in their late elections, and regard the same as give security to the rights of every section and maintain the Union and the Constitution as they were ordained by the founders of the

10. Resolved, That, in the judgment of this General Assembly, a convention should be called for the purpose of proposing such amend-ments to the National Constitution as experi-ence has proved to be necessary to maintain that instrument in the spirit and meaning of its founders; and to that end we reaffirm and adopt the resolutions recommending a call for a convention of the United States, approved 11. Resolved, That the laws of this State must vention as may not have the series at hand. lication at present on account not merely of the body that adopted them but of the fathe people in their primary meetings. We are persuaded that the resolutions express substantially the views of the Union men of Kenthey stand. There are as we conceive several us to form as happy a compromise of unessential points as is practicable. With respect to

In the second place, the resolutions, as is generally understood, closed harmoniously a somewhat protracted discussion between dif-ferent members of the Union majority in the General Assembly, which, though concerning unessentials and though conducted amicably developed not a little feeling on the one side and on the other, and even threatened to defeat altogether an agreement respecting national affairs. This perilous discussion, we repeat, was closed harmoniously by the adoption of the resolutious above, and the General Assembly adjourned with its noble Union majority unbroken. Would it be wise to hazard the reopening of this unprofitable and dangerous strife in the convention by presenting a different basis of agreement even though the basis should be new only in expression? We certainly think not. On the contrary, it seems to us that such a course would be rash

Finally, the resolutions, having been solemnly proposed by the Union Legislature of Kentucky to the acceptance of the country, have been accepted substantially by the conservatives of the North, and, accordingly, the Union men of Kentucky could not now substantially reject the resolutions without putting themselves in a false if not a humiliating position before the country. This is manifest. We have published in our columns an account of the recent consultation of Northern conservatives with Governor Seymour at Albany; but, for the sake of distinctness, we republish the following extracts from the account: Their present proposition—which now seems to be acceded to by conservative leaders throughout the North—is to make no opposition to a vigorous presention of the war. tion to a vigorous prosecution of the war, or to anything that will prevent the national ad-ministration from acting with success.

In addition to this, they will apply to the next Congress, and ask that a national convention be called by Congress, to be elected by the people, for the purpose of bringing about an amicable settlement of this difficulty, restoring the Union in all its parts; to make such they elect delegates to the convention; but in no instance to, directly or indirectly, recognize the right of a State to secede.

This mode is, in every particular, a constitutional one; but, as a matter of course, a convention cannot be convened under the Constitution before the spring of 1864, and cannot in any way compromise the progress of the stitution before the spring of 1804, and cannot in any way compromise the progress of the war this year, unless the radicals are determined to bring about a separation. This is to be the great measure of the Conservative and the conservativ Democratic politicians; and upon it they will take their stand, believing that if the Cabinet at Washington continue in their present policy, without any management or attempt to control public feeling, it will sweep over the North like wild-fire.

The patriots of the North, under the invocation of the paunlawful and unconstitutional acts which have already brought terrible calamities upon the country; whilst we invoke the aid of all to this ground. They are thronging upon it. Assuredly this is no time for the patriots of aspirants, who should previously pledge them-Kentucky to be shrinking away from it in selves to abide such decisions as final and use any direction. 8. Resolved, That Kentucky will adhere to the constitution and the Union, as the best, buried beneath the ruins of the city. Let us be admonished by the terrific example. The rebel Titus is now marshalling his legions on the confines of Kentucky, and, if we divide into factions as the people of Jerusalem divided, the fate of the sacred city will in all human probability become the fate of Kentucky. She will be conquered and made desolate through the divisions of her own sons. It is only from a deep conviction of this truth. the earnest of a good purpose on their part to co-operate with all other loyal citizens— of the powerful tendency of the adoption of the resolutions of the General Assembly to promote harmony amongst us, that we hav ventured to say what we have here said. We onfidently submit the whole question to the superior wisdom and exclusive authority of the gentlemen of the convention.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION. -The resul of the New Hampshire election is another cheering evidence of the overwhelming change in public sentiment and a satisfactory assurance that the conservative feelings of the Eastern States will soon crush out the radicalism which has brought our country to the verge of ruin. If the news of this important victory could be scattered through the armies of the rebels, and they would calmly reflect to forward a copy of these resolutions to the President of the United States, and to the prompt them to return to law and order and the Governor of each State, with a request that he lay the same before the Legislature of his State, and to each of our Senators and Repreand effectually corrects the violence of party sentatives in Congress. AND COMPLAINTS OF THE ORGANS OF GENERATION. THE GONORRHEA, OR COMMONLY CALLED Clap, is a disgusting malady, and is too well Clap, is a disgusting manay, and is too wen known to require any explanation; it is easy to be got, but it is difficult to get clear of. It is a companion that few admire; it pervades all classes of society both male and female, both rich and poor, both married and single. Although so troublesome in itself, so distressing and sometimes fatal, it is a disease the treatment of which has generally been worse than the disease itself. The common fashionable treatment is, first, to deprive you of all business; then comes a course of starvation—living on bread and tea, water gruel, or some kind of slops; you must then be bled, cupped, or leached, combined with nauseating medicined. nentations. Every few days the medicines are way, which the patient bears with great fortitude for fear of exposure ne is discharged, or discharges himelt, with an irritable urctor, a swelled testicle, ar enlargement of the prostrate gland, or a disease of the neck of the bladder. This Specific, which acts like a charm, with a few ses on those diseases, and is quite pleasant to take, and which has cured thousands in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and many of the Southern cities, s a certain and effectual remedy, that makes a rapid This remedy is unequalled by anything yet discovered own plants and is perfectly safe, as it is purely vegetaole. It contains no mercury, so that you can expose ourself to all kinds of weather, without the least anger from the medicine. The State Convention. The Convention of the Union Democracy for the nomination of candidates for State offices will meet at the Circuit Court room at ten o'clock this morning.

THOS. S. PAGE.-We understand that the friends of this sterling patriot and estimable gentleman have obtained his permission to present his name before the convention to-day as a candidate for the office of Auditor of Public Accounts. A fitter candidate than Mr. Page could not be named. His native qualifications and his experience are both of the very first order.

CITY CONVENTION .- The names of several good and loyal men having been mentioned in connection with the Mayoralty, it has been suggested that a convention be held on Wednesday, the 25th inst., for the purpose of nominating suitable persons to fill the various city offices. We would therefore recommend the citizens to meet in their respective Wards and appoint their delegates to this convention.

SIXTH WARD.—The Union citizens of this A. H. Nunnemacher, the well known Adams ward met last evening, Wm. F. Barrett, Esq., Express Messenger, that Andrew Black, an acting as chairman, and Messrs. Geo. Mullikin old farmer of Putnam county, Ind., committed and A. G. Munn as secretaries, for the purpose suicide a few days ago by hanging at his resiof nominating ward officers. The following dence in that county. Recent losses at the candidates were selected: For Alderman, Dr. John E. Crowe; Common Council, J. Hop. self-destruction. The deceased was about Price and D. Lincoln, and School Trustee, Henry L. Pope.

The citizens of all that portion of the city from the east side of Shelby to the west side of Wenzel street, now constituting the Eleventh Ward of the city of Louisville, are hereby notified that a meeting is called for this evening, at the Workingmen's Hall, situated on Main street, between Shelby and State Convention which will assemble in this Campbell, for the purpose of nominating ward officers.

There will be a meeting of the Union Democracy of the Second Ward at the Kentucky Engine-house, to-morrow evening, for the nomination of candidates for Ward officers from Murfreesboro with a large amount of at the ensuing city election. The German money for the families of Indiana soldiers. citizens of the Ward are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

COUNTY MEETINGS.—We have received the highest rate paid by the bankers being fiftyproceedings of Union meetings held in the two per cent. premium. counties of Nelson and Montgomery at too late an hour for publication. The resolutions adopted are a glorious reflex of the conservative Union feeling of the State.

THEATRE. - Miss Jane Coombs appears this evening as Bianca, in Millman's tragedy of Fazio, or the Italian Wife, which will give her every opportunity for exhibiting her personal powers. She has made a very favorable impression upon her auditors here, has attracted large audiences, and will continue to grow in their consideration. The Seven Sisters, which nightly receives some additions to the dialogue, the marches, or the mechanical effects of the splendid last scene, will be repeated. We are glad to see that the orchestra, so ably led by Mr. A. Zoeller, has been increased by two or three instruments. It is the best dramatic band in the Western Wood's THEATRE.—We have had a peep at the fairy transformations which Mr. Wood has made in Mozart Hall, and, like a beautiful woman, "it lights up well." The company is a good one. Miss Lotty Hough as Tartarine is full of life, and fun fairly sparkles in her dark eye. Mr. McDonough as Mrs. Pluto keeps the audience in a roar of laughter with his local hits and political squibs. The stage, with its entire new scenery, looks light and neat, and the dances and marches are beautifully arranged. Bella Golden executes a pas seul with much grace, and the birth of Cupid at the close must be seen to be appreciated. Mr.

Wood has started with large audiences.

Union MEETING IN THE TENTH WARD .- A meeting of the citizens of the Tenth Ward was held at Felix's Saloon, on Main street, last evening, for the nomination of candidates for ward offices. The meeting was numerously attended and reflected the sentiments of the citizens of the ward. Mr. James B. Gregory was called to the Chair and Mr. George W. Stoll was appointed Secretary. The meeting then proceeded to ballot for candidates, which resulted in the following selections: For Alderman, John W. Story; for the Common Council, George W. Stoll and John Shaw; for School Trustees, Oliver Lucas and Cyrus H. Young.

OPPOSED TO THE GOVERNMENT TAX.-Lawrence county, Kentucky, which lies on the Big Sandy River, is one of the hot-beds of treason in this State. The Assessor of Internal Revenue in that county has encountered great difficulty in pursuing his business, being threatened frequently with murder, &c. The Colonel of a Federal regiment in that region determined that the Assessor should perform his duties without molestation, furnished him with a full company of soldiers, as a body guard, and, with gleaming bayonets at his ack, he is now traversing his district, assessing without trouble.

The Rev. W. W. Curry, of New Albany formerly pastor of the First Universalist Church in this city, will lecture before the Female High School to-day, at 11 o'clock A. M., precisely Mr. Curry has been delivering a course of led tures of a literary character with great suc cess in New Albany. The friends of educa tion are invited to attend his lecture to-day.

We are pained, indeed we are shocked, by the announcement of the death of the estimable wife of Mr. A. L. Symmes, which we make this morning. At noon yesterday she was apparently in the bloom of health, and at night she was found in the embrace of death. Truly "in the midst of life we are in death,"

In the organization of the business de partment of the new theatre, Marager Wood has evinced most excellent taste in his selection of Mr. E. C. Bauer, who has a place in the office. The price of a ticket is half forgotthe office. The price of a ticket is half forgot-ten when the exaction is qualified by one of "Eddie's" pleasant smiles.

The Foggy Night at Oxford, the new domestic story by Mrs. Henry Wood, author of Earl Lynne, has been issued by Peterson & Brother of Philadelphia, and is for sale by C T. Dearing, in this city. Mrs. Wood writes fast and well and has become a great favorite with romance readers.

Myers, at his periodical depot, has received Harper's Weekly and Leslie's Illusrated Magazine. Both numbers are unusually excellent. The scene on the levee at New Orleans in the former, and the charge of Negley's brigade over Stone River in the lat-tar are capital.

I beg to announce through your columns that there might be a different arrangement Louisville, Ky.

that there might be a different arrangement made by our worthy Postmaster in reference to the drawers. Some of us cannot procure one either for love or money. Would it not be well to change the drawers, and make two, or even three, out of one? UNION MEETING IN SCOTT COUNTY. - We ave received the proceedings of a meeting held at Georgetown, on Monday, at which Jas. R. Duke presided, and Jesse S. Sinclair acted as secretary. Judge Morrison, Dr. S. F. Graves, Capt. S. W. Thompson, and Capt. S. W. Long, as a committee, reported the followng resolutions, which were adopted, with one ssenting vote:

Resolved, That we approve of the call for a Union Convention to be held in the city of misville on the 18th inst., and that we corlially recommend our esteemed countyman Ion. Jas. F. Robinson, as a suitable candidat or the office of Governor of Kentucky, at th nsuing August election.

Resolved, That we have unshaken faith in e conservatism and patriotism of our fello tizen, Jas. F. Robinson, and that we heartindorse his administration as Governor, and ne acts and doings of the late Union Legis. Resolved, That while expressing our preference for Gov. Robinson, we will heartly unit n the support of any true and conservative per of persons styling themselves Democrats attempted to hold a convention in Frankfort y, yesterday, February 18th, avowedly for the purpose of nominating candidates for thate offices for the ensuing August election. This meeting Col. Gilbert, by my order, dis-ersed. In this attempt, of itself, there was nothing bjectionable, and had there not been certain tarks about it which branded it as the banted. But unfortunately for the success of e enterprise, it bore the brand of Cain upon In times like these, when our country is truggling for existence, with foes upon every ide; when, like Cæsar, it is stricken by the and it has nourished, it is the duty of every wal son to strike in its behalf, with whether val son to strike in its behalf, with whatever of vigor he may possess.

To judge of the motives and intentions of this convention, it is sufficient for us to know that the leaders in it are notorious rebels, who acorporated with the Southern Confederacy some of them have heretofore been sent out o he State for expressing treasonable sen rokers to-morrow.

Their hope, doubtless, was to allure to their upport, by the shibboleth of Democracy, many good and true men, who would give character to their organization, and enable hem to obtain control of the Executive and Legislative Departments of the State at the ensuing election, and, ultimately, by some stroke of political finesse, to carry the State over irretrievably to the Southern Confederacy.

The moral effect of having the State offices in the horal effect of having the State offices. n the hands of such unscrupulous men would be fearful.

The political status of Kentucky is by no means secure, and I deemed it sounder policy to arrest at once the organization of this rebel element before it attained such impetus, element before it attained such impetus, strength, and character as would demand, six months hence, the exercise of force to retain the State in constitutional obedience.

Believing these things, as I do, and with a view to terrify confirmed traitors, support the unqualifiedly loyal, and reassure the timid, as well as from a firm conviction of duty, I shall ot permit any such meeting or convention it it is not positive orders to do so from my sueriors in command. take pleasure in stating that Col. ASTROLOGY

Look Out! Good News for All! THE NEVER - FAILING MADAME ISABEL SNELL is the best. She succeeds when all others have failed. All who are in trouble; all who have been unfortunate; all whose fond hopes have been disappointed, crushed, and blasted by false promises and deceit—all fly to her for advice and satisfaction.
In love affairs she never fails. She shows you the likeness of your future husband or wife. She guides the single to a happy marriage, Her aid and advice have been solicited in innumerable instances, and the result has always been the means of securing a speedy and happy marriage. She is therefore a sure dependence. and happy marriage. She is therefore a sure dependence.

It is well known to the public at large that she was the first and she is now the only person in this country who can show the likeness in reality, and who can give entire satisfaction on all the concerns of life, which can be attested and proved by thousands, both married and single, who daily and eagerly visit her. To all in business her advice is invaluable. She can foretel, with the greatest certainty, the result of all commercial and business transactions. Madame Snell is a bona fide Astrologist that every one can depend upon. She is the greatest Astrologist of the nineteenth century. Some ladies may be a little timid, though they need not fear, for she practises nothing but what is reconcilable to pullosophers; in fact a single visit will satisfy the most fastidious of her respectability, moral rectified, and of the purity of her profession and practice. All interviews are strictly private and confidential; therefore come, one—come all.

Prices reduced to suit the times. Ladies one dollar; gentlemen two dollars.

P. S.—Madame Snell will tell the names and ages of all visitors, and will also cast their Horoscope and give them their nativity, also tell the place where they will he most fortunate. P. S.—Madame Snell will tell the names and agest all visitors, and will also cast their Horoscope and g them their nativity, also tell the place where they be most fortunate. Every person who cannot along in this world, and has bad luck, should be possession of her Horoscope and get her writt opinion of his future prospect in life.
